CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS AND CHILDREN

The following list of books have been carefully selected, and are especially recommended to those who have charge of instructing mothers in the proper care and feeding of children, or who have personal supervision of infants and children.

The books indicated with two stars are considered the best books for mothers, and those with one star are suggested for additional reading, particularly for nurses and Teachers of Child Hygiene.

The above are fifteen books, covering a fair range, which should be in every library, and which may be considered a nucleus for books on hygiene. To these should be added the other publications of the Children's Bureau, the United States Public Health Service Bulletins, publications of the State Department of Public Health, and two or three good magazines dealing with current health topics, such as the "American Journal of Public Health," "Public Health Nurse," "School Life" (the official organ of the United States Bureau of Education, dealing to a considerable extent with health matters), and, if you can add another, "Journal of Industrial Hygiene."

If you can make a larger investment in books on hygiene than the fifteen named in the first list; the following are suggested. This list has been arranged to meet the needs of different groups of people, and therefore includes the books in the first list.

Write for their Keep Well Series of pamphlets; for their Lectures on Social Hygiene for Nurses, 1919; for their regular bulletins on various phases of public health.

- Lea & Febiger, 706 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa. They publish a Nurses' Text-Book Series, including Parker's Materia Medica, Farr's Outlines of Internal Medicine, Bacon's Obstetrical Nursing, Fox's Bacteriology, Price's Hygiene and Sanitation, Amoss's Chemistry and Chemical Urinalysis, etc., and they have new books in preparation (including Eckman's Dietetics for Nurses and Foley's Public Health Nursing. Joslin's Diabetic Manual is also in preparation).
- They publish also Mouth Hygiene, a course of instruction for dental hygienists, a textbook compiled by Alfred C. Fones, D.D.S., of Bridgeport, Conn., where he has done special work in the public schools in mouth hygiene.
- They publish also a Manual of Practical Hygiene for students, physicians and health officers, by Harrington, revised by Mark Wyman Richardson, M.D., and other books on sanitation, communicable diseases, etc.
- D. C. Heath & Co., Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Their textbooks include texts on civics, economics, sociology and on physical training; also school texts on physiology and hygiene, and one on home and community hygiene (Brown).
- Little, Brown & Co., 34 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. They publish many books on cookery, on home economics in general, and domestic science for schools.
- They publish a Mind and Health series, which is very good. Teachers and nurses should be familiar with this series.
- D. Appleton & Co., 29 West 32d St., New York. They publish books on nursing, health, hygiene, first aid and household affairs. They publish Florence Nightingale's Notes on Nursing; Rosenau's Preventive Medicine and Hygiene; Doty's Good Health—How to Get It—How to Keep It; Holt's Care and Feeding of Children; Coolidge's Home Care of Sick Children; Burks and Burks' Health and the School; etc.
- J. B. Lippincott Co., 227 So. 6th St., Philadelphia, Pa. This company publishes nursing textbooks and books of interest to nurses.
- C. V. Mosby Co., Metropolitan Building, St. Louis, Mo. Publishers of nursing books.
- G. P. Putnam's Sons, 2 West 45th St., New York. Publishers of Cambridge (Eng.) Public Health Series (Cambridge University Press); medical books; and books on nursing (including Nutting and Dock's History of Nursing in 4 volumes, LaMotte's Tuberculosis Nurse, Pope's Medical Dictionary for Nurses, Struther's School Nurse, etc.).
- W. B. Saunders Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Pyle's Personal Hygiene and books on nursing.
- Dodd, Mead & Co., New York. Kelly's High Road to Health.

The town library should subscribe to at least one magazine on public health matters, and it should have several to which the public health nurse, the doctor and everybody else can refer. We suggest the following:

Magazines and Current Publications.

The Public Health Nurse (monthly). National Organization for Public Health Nursing, 2157 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. $2 per year.

The American Journal of Nursing (monthly). American Journal of Nursing Company, 19 West Main St., Rochester, N. Y. $2 per year.

The Journal of Industrial Hygiene (and abstract of the literature) (monthly). Journal of Industrial Hygiene, The Macmillan Company, 64-66 Fifth Ave., New York. $5 per year.

School Life. This magazine is most valuable. It is a teacher of health. You should not fail to subscribe for it. United States Bureau of Education. 50 cents per year.

American Journal of Public Health. This is the journal of the American Public Health Association. Most valuable. 169 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, Mass. $4 per year.

Mental Hygiene. This magazine as well as the bulletins of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene (same address), contains many articles which should be of interest to teachers especially, and also to nurses. 50 Union Sq., New York. $2 per year.

Journal of Outdoor Life. Not specially a health magazine, or to take the place of any of the above, but tends to make outdoor life and healthy activity attractive. 289 Fourth Ave., New York.
